NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—As a commentary on some efforts in Dixon township to appropriate funds for an equalized assessment, DeKalb township voters have approved a plan to spend up to $30,000 for just such an effort.

Action was taken at the annual town meeting and the resolution allows the assessor there to hire assistants to institute a "card" system to record permanently the 5,000 pieces of real estate in DeKalb township.

This was an action which Supervisor A. C. Higby told a meeting of local taxpayers that couldn't be voted. The proposal got thoroughly confused and the well-meaning citizens here perhaps lost an early chance to strike a blow for equalized assessment. Instead, Higby took the matter to the county board, asking for a county-wide reassessment. His proposal got a chilly reception.

What Dixon township now possesses, is a watered-down version of the original proposal. Higby promises to scrape together some money from the town fund to pay the salary of an assistant to Assessor A. C. Handell. It is an attempt to salvage some of the merits of the plan proposed by Assistant Supervisor Frank Sprout. It is hard to see what Assessor Handell can accomplish with this limited aid. We wish him well, but revamping Dixon township's assessment system from the old "circle" system promises to be a tough task.

We agree with Supervisor Higby's demand for a county-wide reassessment. But, as we stated here, if Dixon township voters desired to institute their own program, they should have been permitted to do so. His promises to get early county board action show that plan off the track.

This assessment problem is easily misunderstood. It is not a measure to raise or lower tax rates or payments. It is an effort to establish an equitable tax base upon which TAX RATES will apply. Frankly, it will raise the valuations of some property, and lower others. If you are living in a home which you know is valued at $7,000 and pay a tax of $15, you're in for a tax boost in all likelihood. There are instances of that sort on the tax rolls.

There is no attempt here to disguise the purpose of the reassessment. It is meant to correct injustices that have piled up over the years. If you are presently enjoying a favorable tax bill, you can oppose the reassessment for obvious personal reasons. But your position is morally wrong.

We've recently questioned a number of taxpayers concerning what they would expect from a reassessment. Their answers were invariably along this line:

"I want to be assured that when my home is assessed, that it is not out of line with my neighbor and the guy down the block. I don't mind paying taxes, but I want the assessments applied as fairly as possible."

If we all keep our eye on the little white ball, this can be accomplished. No diversionary tactics, please!

An aide of the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said that "everything went fine" during the operation, performed by Dr. Leonard W. Riba in Passavant Hospital.

Stevenson, who has been troubled by the kidney ailment for two years, spent three days in a Durham, N. C., hospital late last month when his condition became acute while he was visiting at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Ives.

District 271 Voters Reject Single High School Proposal

Elect 3 to Board Who Fought Plan

Citizens' Committee Forces Winners in Saturday Balloting

ASHTON — (Special) — Residents of Community Unit School District 271 Saturday rejected a single high school building plan, and elected to the board of education three men who were supported by the citizens committee which has opposed plans for a centralized high school system.

All proposals concerning a single high school, including a $1,100,000 bond issue, were defeated by majorities of more than 700 votes. Voters approved building a new Franklin Grove grade school by a majority of 111, but that approval was nullified when the proposal to issue $190,000 in bonds to build the school was defeated.

Heaviest majorities against the high school plans were recorded in Franklin Grove, Pawpaw, Steward, West Brooklyn and Ogle county.

Voters in Ashton, Lee Center and Compton approved the plan in general.

Defeated Twice

A building program calling for two high schools to serve the east and west sections of the district was defeated twice in 1953. In voting Sept. 26 and Dec. 17 the program was defeated by majorities of about 400 votes each time. Three thousand one hundred fifty-seven voters cast ballots Saturday, slightly more than in the special elections.

In the board of education election, the winning candidates were Orville Englehart, Wyoming township, 1,970 votes; Bernard Fuchs, Alto township, 1,828, and Joseph Henry, Taylor township, 1,760. They will serve three-year terms. Englehart was appointed to the board about two months ago.

The defeated candidates were H. Donald Hay, Taylor township, 1,193 votes, and Jeff Kemper, Viola township, 1,268. Hay had been a member of the board since the district was organized in 1948.

The organization meeting of the school board will be held in Millersville Memorial building, Ashton, tonight.

The result of the voting by precincts on the building program was as follows:

Katy Tells of Meeting 'Dutch' Dixon Woman a 'Notch on A Log' to Ronald Reagan

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. and Mrs. Allan Boyd, 630 First av., flew to Hollywood, Calif., last week where Mrs. Boyd confronted Ronald Reagan, famous actor and former Dixon resident, during the "Place the Face" television show. The following is her story of the trip.

As Told to Roger Thompson

We had a fabulous three days, but I hope I never have to do it again.

The thrill of the trip to Hollywood to take part in the "Place the Face" television show, the excitement of the show itself and meeting "Dutch" Reagan again were all wonderful.

We left Chicago at noon Wednesday, and ran into strong winds up to 90 miles an hour over Iowa. We couldn't unfasten our safety belts until we were west of Omaha. Then we had good weather and crossed the Grand Canyon at sunset, a lovely sight.

We arrived in Los Angeles about 8 p.m., and went to the Hotel Knickerbocker where I called Joe Landis, who is director for the television show. He asked us to

Favor Meek To Get GOP Nod Tuesday

Hayes Regarded As Contender for Senatorial Seat

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

CHICAGO (AP)—The first political struggle of 1954, a preliminary skirmish to pick candidates for the crucial November battle over control of congress, reaches a showdown Tuesday in the Illinois primary.

From the standpoint of national interest, the main result will be to tap a Republican for an attempt to tip Democrat Paul H. Douglas out of his Senate seat. Nine candidates are scuffling for the GOP senatorial nomination.

Joseph T. Meek and Edward A. Hayes are regarded as the top contenders. Between the two, observers are inclined to give Meek a shade the better of it.

Meek heads the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations. Hayes is a former national commander of the American Legion.

The nation's first primary Tuesday will determine, too, whether 10 House members, four of them chairmen of major committees, will get a chance to run again in November.

Look For "Straws"
Over the country, politicians are eyeing the primary for straws in the wind. But they may have to strain to detect any real trends, any significant Midwestern sentiment on national issues, or any clear signs of approval or disapproval of what the Eisenhower administration and Congress are doing.

Various candidates have been bringing up such questions as farm and employment problems or thundering against sending any Americans to fight in Indochina. But voters seem to be more interested in local issues, and races involving city and county officers and seats in the state legislature.

Republican rivalries are attracting the major claim to attention, since none of the Democratic contests involves any statewide balloting. Sen. Douglas has no challenger in the primary.

Nine Opposed
Within the Illinois congressional delegation, nine of the 16 Republican House members are bucking primary opposition but only one of

Dixon Youth Holds Police at Bay With Shotgun, Captured

DHS Freshman Defies Cops After Quarrel With Family

A 15-year-old boy today faces a charge of violating his probation after he "went wild" here Saturday and allegedly threatened to kill two city policemen with a shotgun.

Douglas Stage, 821 Madison av., Dixon high school freshman, on probation for being a school truant, was scheduled for arraignment today before Lee county Judge Grover Gehant.

Stage was confined in the Lee county jail after leading Dixon police on a wild chase Saturday, just before noon, that ended on Illinois Central railroad tracks, south of Broadway.

The chase began when he leveled a 12-gauge shotgun at two Dixon police officers called to his home to intervene in a family argument.

Called to Home

According to Dixon Police Officer G. D. Camery, who captured the gun-wielding teenager, he and Officer Frank Chapman were summoned by police radio to the Stage home.

Sgt. B. R. Lorenzen, who partici-

Stage residence, they found the high school freshman in the family car, arguing with his sister, who was standing outside.

Levels Gun

Camery and Chapman approached the car, only to look down the barrel of the shotgun held in Stage's hands.

Stage apparently jumped from the car when he saw them coming. Both officers were held at bay. Neither went for their guns.

Camery and Chapman said they started talking to the youth, attempting to have him drop the gun and discuss the trouble without an incident.

However, the officers said Stage defiantly threatened to kill them if they took a step closer.

They quoted him as saying "I'm going to be sent away anyway, so I might as well kill someone."

No amount of pleading seemed to help the officers claimed.

Stage kept looking over his shoulder for fear someone would try to grab him from behind. A crowd of youngsters began to gather, police said. He threatened them, too.

Backs Into Home

Finally, the youth backed toward his home, keeping the shotgun leveled. The weapon was a single-barreled antique. The barrel was secured to the stock by black tape.

When Stage reached the front door he ran inside, Chapman said.

It was feared he would attempt to barricade himself in the house and shoot it out with the officers.

When he disappeared both officers ran to the squad car and radioed for a tear gas gun and assistance. They then pulled the car to a vantage point in front of the house in case Stage started shooting.

However, the youngster didn't stop inside. He headed for the back door and kept going west until he came to the Illinois Central tracks.

Onlookers informed the police of his attempt to escape.

DHS Students Petition Board Follow Teachers Asking Principal Be Retained

A petition, purportedly bearing the names of more than 500 Dixon high school students, will be presented to the Dixon board of education Wednesday night in protest to the forced resignation of Principal B. J. Frazer.

Student leaders said that the circulation of the petition began Sunday night and was completed before classes this morning. They said that it represented the views of more than 500 students under Frazer. Dixon high has an enrollment of slightly more than 700.

The petition read: "We the undersigned, students of Dixon High School, desire to express our opinion on the issue of the forced resignation of Mr. B. J. Frazer, principal of Dixon High school."

"In The Best Interest" "It is the general opinion of the undersigned that Mr. Frazer be retained as principal of Dixon High school, for his administration has proved to be in the best interest and to the satisfaction of the undersigned students."

"We sincerely hope that the board of education will consider the resignation of Mr. Frazer and find it desirable that it be rejected."

News that Principal Frazer was asked to resign leaked to the school faculty last Thursday. School board members said that he was asked to do so "in the best interests of the school."

They offered no other official comment of their action taken at a secret meeting of the board.

Thirty-six members of the high school faculty also have prepared a petition asking the school board to refuse Frazer's resignation.

Tell Of Showdown

Meanwhile, in the absence of any clarification by the board, speculation was continuing on the reasons for Frazer's firing. A source close to the situation said that the board, when it meets to consider the resignation Wednesday night, will list charges stemming from Frazer's failure to cooperate with Supl. Allen Lancaster on school policy matters.

When the full story of Frazer's discharge is revealed, some sources claim that it will show that Lancaster and Frazer differed on many things and that finally Lancaster went before the board with a demand to oust Frazer or accept his resignation. The board chose to uphold Lancaster and Frazer was asked to resign.

Blames Roosevelt, Stark, Marshall for Pearl Harbor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Retired Adm. William H. Standley says the report of the first official investigation into the Pearl Harbor disaster "did not present the whole, true picture."

Standley, who was a member of the board and signed its report, said his subsequent study of the case would lead him now to arrive at about the same conclusions as were set forth in the minority report of the senate-house committee which investigated later. This report put principle blame on the late President Roosevelt and the secretaries and top uniformed officers of the army and navy.

Writes Book

Standley has set forth his views in one chapter of a forthcoming book to be published next fall.

The commission's report placed primary blame for Pearl Harbor on Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short and Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, the commanding army and navy officers in Hawaii at the time.

"The tragedy of Pearl Harbor was the fact that they were, and had to be, removed from command without a hearing and that war conditions prevented bringing them to trial by general court-martial before the end of the war," Standley wrote.

Two "Martyred"

"Thus, these two officers were martyred, as it were, for in my opinion, if they had been brought to trial, both would have been cleared of the charge of neglect of duty."

He declared that Gen. George C. Marshall, then army chief of staff, and Adm. Harold R. Stark, then chief of naval operations, "were equally culpable and should share with Short and Kimmel the blame for faulty judgment and for incorrect interpretation of information available to them."

Standley said Marshall and Stark "should have recognized that war was imminent and that an attack was on the way to some American base." He said only "ineffective messages" were sent to the commanders in Hawaii from Washington.

Seven-Man Sheriff's Race Generates County Interest

Although the primary election Tuesday in Lee county will be paced by a seven-man nomination race for the office of Lee county sheriff on the Republican ticket, the turnout of county voters is expected to be light.

Predictions primarily are based on previous primaries.

During the last comparable primary election in 1950, only 3,861 Republican and Democratic votes were cast for candidates running on respective party tickets.

Of the total, there were 4,730 Republican ballots cast to the 1,231 Democratic votes.

Figures for the 1952 primaries are not believed indicative of this year's voting because they represent the turnout at a Presidential primary.

In 1952, a total of 9,632 votes were cast in Lee county with 7,413 for Republican and 2,219 for Democratic candidates.

The polls will open tomorrow at 6 a.m. They will close at 5 p.m. Weather Tuesday is expected to play a part in the overall county turnout.

Rule of Thumb

According to an old rule of thumb upon which many politicians rely, fair weather in the county indicates a light vote while foul skies call for heavy ballots. The weather prediction for Tuesday is fair and warmer.

Many feel fair weather keeps most farmers at home, taking advantage of clear skies to work in the fields, leaving politics to the city dweller.

However, because of considerable campaigning by the candidates for the sheriff's office on the Republican ticket, there is some belief interest through the county has been stirred.

There are eleven Lee county men in the race for county offices on the Republican ballot. No one is named on the Democratic ballot for those posts.

In the battle for county sheriff, there has been considerable speculation on who will get the Republican nod. Most predict a close battle.

On the Republican ballot for sheriff are John E. Stouffer, incumbent; Orval L. Gehant Jr., 403 E. McKenney st., Dixon; Clarence A. Seagrone, 1206 Third st., Dixon; L. E. Bates, 310 E. Seventh st., Dixon; Henry Wilson, 314½ First st., Dixon; Howard J. Woodyatt, 1608 Second st., Dixon, and Sam Hartzell, 1219 Galena av., Dixon.

Lee county Judge Grover Gehant, Clerk Sterling D. Schrock, Superintendent of Schools John A. Torrens, all of Dixon, and Treasurer Albert Hillson, Amboy, are unopposed on the Republican ballot for their respective offices.

Leon W. Miller, Dixon, is the Lee county candidate for nomination to the post of Republican Senatorial Committeeman, 35th district.

Thomas J. Downs, Dixon, and Rex Bradshaw, Compton, are competing for Democratic Senatorial Committeeman, 35th district.

Cheek Precinct

County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock today advised voters to check the precinct in which they will vote tomorrow.

This pertains to Dixon's voters on the north side because of precinct changes. There were no alterations on south side precincts.

The polling places in Dixon township are as follows:

First precinct, Gerdes Motor Sales, 221 E. First st.; Second precinct, Evar Swanson Garage, 112 Ottawa av.; Third precinct, first floor, Lee county courthouse;

Problems Posed by H-Bomb Call For Calm Deliberation

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It is a good sign that release of the first facts and pictures of the hydrogen bomb have caused no great panic.

If ever cool heads, free from hysteria, were needed to think through on a problem, this is the time.

The fact that a weapon now exists—powerful enough to wipe out Washington or any other metropolitan center—provides a subject that could easily lend itself to some high-fidelity demagoguery. Consider some of its more awesome possibilities, as analyzed here:

The H-bomb makes any pretense at bomb shelters and civil defense measures seem somewhat futile. There is no safety from this weapon other than flight to the tall timber or to deep mountain caves.

The one defense offered is a vastly increased interceptor air force, bolstered with guided missiles, radar screens and anti-aircraft artillery. An adequate force might cost a hundred billion dollars or more. This expense might easily wreck the country financially before it could be wrecked physically by the bomb.

ON THE OTHER HAND, it is argued that even these measures would be useless. For the FBI has revealed that it would be possible to smuggle in the parts for atomic weapons. They could be assembled and time-fused to do by sabotage what enemy aircraft might not be able to do in open warfare.

The mere existence of this weapon completely changes all concepts of military strategy and tactics. Whole armies, fleets and air armadas can be destroyed by a single H-bomb. It makes obsolete existing weapons of both offense and defense.

Or does it? A hydrogen bomb or even a puny atomic bomb could not raise the siege at Dien Bien Phu without destroying its heroic defenders. So what good is it?

This is the argument of conventional strategists. According to them the doughboy in the mud, the rifle, the hand grenade and the elemental booby trap will always be necessary to win a war.

What this reasoning seems to do is put the H-bomb in the category of a weapon of psychological warfare. It is so powerful that no one will dare to use it. But as a threat—capable of being held heavy over the heads of those who do not have it—the H-bomb can force the have-nots to yield to the will of the haves or face destruction.

Possessed by the forces of righteousness, the H-bomb as a psychological weapon becomes a force for good. Possessed by the ungodly, it becomes a force for evil.

THIS SEEMS TO LEAD towards a movement to outlaw the H-bomb completely. Voices abroad have already been raised with this demand. There has been some surprise that the Communist leadership has not launched a new world-wide appeal, like the Stockholm peace petition.

Millions of signatures could easily be secured from the little people of the world in support of an international agreement to ban the use of the H-bomb, and its little brother, the A-bomb.

One reason why such a petition may not have been launched is that the Communist leaders do not want the bomb outlawed. Possessing the H-bomb, they unquestionably have their own plans for its use to serve their own ends.

Or, with their record of perfidy, they might easily plan to use it after other nations of the world had given it up.

So outlawing the bomb may not be the answer, either. Outlawing the bomb merely puts the world back where it was before, with a gloomy future of unending little wars.

WHAT SEEMS TO BE NEEDED here is a bigger answer. So far, no world leader has spoken out clearly on all these matters. The subject is too new and perhaps too big for immediate comprehension.

There has not been time to think through to a logical end—calmly, unemotionally and with a minimum of demagoguery—to show the path to peace.

It is a problem for everyone to think about, and speak out on, too, in this Easter season of hope. For in the long run, in a democracy, the leaders reflect and carry out only the wishes of the people.

It is not a situation of complete frustration. Civilization isn't going to be destroyed as some pessimists wail. This thing can be worked out.

But at this precise second of history, the answers are not clear.

The Mature Parent

Disappointing Our Children Can't Always Be Avoided

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mr. Brown is a young architect and father. Because he's a junior member of his firm, his assignments are usually routine.

One afternoon, opportunity knocks. Building plans for a large factory are laid upon his desk. He is reminded of an idea for window designs he once discussed with his boss and is planning to ask if he can adapt it to the big factory's building plans.

Mr. Brown is concentrating on this important business when Mrs. Brown calls from their suburban home to remind him to take the early train. "I didn't want you to forget," she says, "that tonight is the night Pammy is playing the Good Fairy in her school play."

Mr. Brown mentions his own important affair. Mrs. Brown becomes excited. Indignantly, she warns her husband that unless he is at Pammy's school play, he will be neglecting his paternal responsibilities.

From somewhere, Mr. Brown finds the strength to defend his right to attend to his own affair before he attends to Pammy's. But he feels like a brute for doing so. Before he takes the last train home, he buys a box of Mrs. Brown's favorite candy and a set of plastic dish dishes.

They are not gifts of love to Mrs. Brown and Pammy. They are offerings to our god—the American Child. They are appeasement to the new commandment: "Thou shalt never disappoint The Child."

Nobody ever appreciates gifts made by fear. So I hope that Mr. Brown will save his money when next time an important affair of his is given precedence over the affairs of his child, and explains that all people have responsibilities toward themselves as well as toward others.

No, I am not urging a policy of disappointing and frustrating children. If we love them, we certainly ly want to reconcile their plans with ours whenever we can.

Sometimes we can't, because of the nature of circumstances. When this happens, we do not shield Pammy against discovering that consideration is a two-way street.

It's when injustice is involved in a disappointment that it really crushes us. And it's the antagonism we feel in the person who frustrates us that really hurts.

If love and reasonableness impose the disappointment or frustration, we don't have to hesitate about asking for consideration.

Voice of the People

Dear Public:

As a former teacher of the Dixon high school I feel it my duty to express the great shock of Mr. Frazer's dismissal. I have nothing but the highest regard for his moral, intellectual and superior leadership of our schools. He is of truly high character.

When 100 per cent of the faculty and those of us who have been under his guidance in the past speak so highly of him the public should see there is no tension to degrade our schools. Teacher cooperation has helped our students to stand high scholastically and be leaders of various organizations in higher schools of learning.

Here are some of the things I want the public to realize:

1. There is no school, industry, business, or individual that doesn't have friction arise that cannot be worked out satisfactorily.

2. Mr. Frazer has given 30 years of intensive interest to our community. He has always been a ready helper to our problems.

3. Some 10 years of this several of our present school board members have been on the school board. Why should these few decide now to dismiss him when they didn't feel it necessary earlier in their terms?

4. Does the public realize the students have better school spirit now than years past? This helps our business establishments as other communities are drawn to school functions.

5. Would you feel it fair to have the man of your family dismissed four years before retirement? Do we now have knowledge his offense has been that serious? This man has educated two sons on a smaller salary than most professional men and now four years would help finance his and his wife's retirement.

6. All teachers' lives are dedicated to higher living and an example to our children. Their lives are an open book to the public. Do you feel this an example to our children?

7. Our board has been elected by us to represent the public. Their statement was that it is too late to change their decision. Is it ever too late to admit you have been wrong? If they were not wrong let the public know the facts that make Mr. Frazer a detriment to our schools. Until such facts are known I am sure the public will have doubt that the board is representing the public opinion.

8. This is not only a personal matter for our students are taught democracy and it is a democratic way to hold a secret session—even worse not to record the meetings. I urge every one to make this a situation our community will be proud of.

So They Say

I believe that no article or service should be subjected to an . . . excise tax of 10 per cent unless (it) is imposed as a penalty.

—Rep. Daniel Reed (R., N. Y.).

I don't think anyone would say the generals in our army are not fighting communism.

—GOP Chairman Leonard Hall.

There is no other solution for humanity but to build the world anew in the spirit of Christ . . . let men in high places come to realize the absolute necessity of this, because by ignoring God or denying Him, they will build even more precariously than at present.

—Pope Pius XII.

You are the nicest opposite lawyer I have ever met.

I hope the Democrats will pay attention to the country and not Republican oratory.

The Doctor Says:

Corns and Warts Are Equally a Nuisance

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

People frequently get warts and corns mixed up, since they look a little bit alike, but actually they are quite different. Corns are caused by injury to skin usually over a long period of time. Warts are essentially infections, believed caused by viruses. Because of this similarity in appearance, however, they can be conveniently considered at the same time.

The skin has an outer layer which is quite tough, as everyone knows. When this outer part of the skin is pressed upon or irritated so that it continues to grow and becomes horny, these growths are called corns.

TWO VARIETIES are recognized: hard corns which are thick and develop on the prominent part of the foot where a shoe presses upon it, and soft corns which generally appear on a toe which has been rubbing against another one.

Corns are often particularly painful about the time of a storm. Some people claim, probably correctly, that they can foretell the appearance of bad weather by the fact that their corns start hurting.

Most corns disappear when the cause is removed. In other words, if a person with corns on the feet is bedridden for some time they will go away. After badly fitting shoes are replaced, corns will also often go away, but not so rapidly. There are various ways of softening corns and removing them by cutting or scraping. In a few cases in which the corn is extremely painful or needs to be removed rapidly, a small operation is quite effective.

SEVERAL KINDS of warts are known but all are believed to be caused by infection with one or more viruses. They are more or less contagious and people frequently transfer a wart from one part of the body to another by rubbing or scratching.

There is no truth, however, to the belief that handling a toad will produce warts.

In spite of the fact that warts are infections, they can be successfully treated in several different ways. Local treatment by freezing or diathermy is often effective. Injections of various substances have also been used.

EVEN MENTAL treatment seems to have been useful in curing warts, although why this should be true is still something of a mystery.

In particularly difficult cases, treatment with X-rays and even removal by operation has been undertaken.

In Hollywood

By

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Behind the Screens: Eddie Cantor needs money like Ft. Knox needs gold. It isn't the moo-lah that keeps him working harder than Nick the Greek over a pair of cold dice at Las Vegas.

With Cantor it's the pleasure, he says, and not the banknotes. "Look," he told me. "If I enjoyed an easy chair in Palm Springs I'd be there for the rest of my life. I can afford it. But I don't enjoy it. People should do what gives them the most pleasure. I enjoy entertaining people. I don't know where I'd have fun if I wasn't working."

Now winding up a season on "Comedy Hour," Eddie will be working even harder next year. He'll be host on 26 dramatic shows, and star in 13 on the "Eddie Cantor Theater," now on the planning boards. (Plus a once-a-week radio show.)

There's also talk of a sequel to "The Eddie Cantor Story," with Eddie playing himself, "If Keefe Brassele will let me."

Eddie's comment about the major film studios ignoring TV: "They made a mistake and, as usual, they're acting like little kids about it. Even after discovering they made a mistake, they won't admit it."

Is Eddie worried about seeing these quotes in print? "One of the compensating features of being 62 is that you have no future. I'm not worried about someone who won't hire me when I'm 70."

Dorothy Dandridge is gasping. A song arranger tried to talk her into warbling a new arrangement of "Perfidia" for her Las Vegas stint at the Last Frontier.

He calls it "Porfirio," and the new lyrics are full of allusions to Zsa Zsa Gabor and Barbara Hutton.

Fan note to John Lund: "I listen to your CBS radio show, 'Yours Truly, Johnny Dollar,' every Tuesday night. It's my favorite show. Please clear your throat."

Projection-room flash: "The Man With the Million," Gregory Peck's latest, is the funniest British movie in years.

Linda Christian, bound and determined to make the stardom grade, will be hubby Ty Power's costar in the independent movie he'll make in Rome this summer.

Ricky Arlen, 20-year-old son of Dick Arlen, received his "greetings" and reports to Uncle Sam April 15.

Diana Lynn turned down another 55-shows-a-year TV series because she doesn't want to be tied down. The same reason why she said "No" to "My Little Margie" and "My Favorite Husband" — and she isn't even sorry.

Cecil B. DeMille, I hear, is about to call off location scenes in Egypt for "The Ten Commandments." Anti-Americanism is said to be one reason.

Marjorie Main will give Europeans a peek at her "Ma Kettle" features. She sails for her first vacation abroad in May. . . . Jack Lambert, the movie heavy, has joined the night-club gold rush as a singer. . . . Kerima's untamed-vixen role in "Outcast of the Islands" sounds like Mary Pickford compared to her new Italian flicker, "The She Wolf."

Charlton Heston's wordage about the voice of the people, after a personal-appearance tour: "People can't understand why the studios aren't making more feature comedies. Even the exhibitors are screaming for laugh-getters."

A. J. Cronin's magazine articles about his early career as a medic have been collected by Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz. They'll star Charles Coburn in the stories, under the title of "Country Doctor," for television, and will own the show outright.

Victor Mature's yelling for a shoot-'em-up western.

NEW YORK—Alicia Patterson, in private life Mrs. Harry F. Gurnheim, has brought to a soggy triumph a great scrap by an obscure daily paper of restricted circulation area. This vigorous genius took out after William D. De Koenig, senior and junior, brutal inextinguishable thugs and thieves who were running a fat local of the Union of Operating Engineers in Mineola, L. I., where Alicia founded a few years ago a tabloid called Newsday. She has now destroyed the De Koenigs but without appropriate punishment and she is willing to let it go at that.

Alicia is a daughter of the late Joseph Medill Patterson who started the New York News, just after the first war. She very much resembles the late Joe or Jomp as the staff called him, daring, original and as often wrong-headed. Jomp, for instance, fell for F. D. Roosevelt all the way down to the proposition of a second world war for the United States by which time he had endorsed or condoned most of Roosevelt's anti-constitutional innovations.

He needlessly gave the Newspaper Guild a closed shop, a harsh affront to loyal employees who hated the Guild and deserved his help in preserving their status as individuals apart from the mass. Now the Guild was to take over his spiritual function—a bureaucrat's word but my best effort at the moment—and the relations between these people and their old patron, Baron and Papa ceased to be affectionate and became contractual. Jomp had been a Socialist as a kid and had written a punk but noisy novel called "The Little Brother of the Rich," which he thought less and less of as years went by.

Alicia looks a good deal like her late Aunt Cissy, who published the Washington Times-Herald and fought the whole mocking New Deal cabal with profane gusto and, on caving, left the paper to a passel of employees of the city-room and business office who reacted just as she probably thought they would.

I have been watching Alicia's job on the De Koenigs for three years and it is a personal and artistic disappointment to hear her say in a surprisingly spiritless mood that if senior gets a year in prison he will come out a broken man. It is not easy to say off-hand how much time off the late end of a no-good's life is enough to balance years of oppression of his fellow-men and extortion so greedy over so long a time that the local district attorney hasn't enough official funds to find out how much he did steal. But certainly Junior De Koenig is young and guilty enough to get 20 years subject to statutory discounts starting after, say a decade. They both have been predators for years and the judge could, if he had a mind to, put them away for as long as they live on consecutive sentences.

Alicia and Alan Hathway, her managing editor, began to dig on an original up that the De Koenigs were extorting money from a group of contractors who were building row on row of family houses to sell at less than $10,000. They were laying a "cellar" tax of $5 per house which was a way of saying that for $5 per house they excused these contractors from employing a "hoisting" engineer whose services simply could not have been used anyway because there was no work for "hoists" on flimsy bowers of two stories at most.

About 60,000 or maybe 70,000 of these homes were built so the De Koenigs, sire and son, and each a credit to the other, clipped the poor, yearning aspirants to little homes with roses 'round the door, for a total of from $480,000 to $560,000 on this item alone. This deal was done under the auspices of the International Union of Operating Engineers, the old Joe Fay racket, and De Koenig, the elder, was office boy, flunkie and professional protegee of the old master who held court in his king size cell with politicians, unioners and other crooks of high degree calling to seek his favor.

The president of the racket is William E. Maloney, the headquarters in Chicago, who has or had a mansion in Miami Beach, a racing stable and a stockfarm in Illinois and who is splendidly immune so far to the harassments that have befallen Fay, the De Koenigs and other subordinates. It means nothing nowadays to say that his union is one of the crookedest we have. It is that, to be sure, but nobody cares and in the case of the De Koenigs the formal reproof from the court will seem almost like an endorsement.

Of course the De Koenigs also shook the heavy construction industry, but Alicia and Hathway and a couple of reporters struck little fire outside their own narrow circulation area until the harness-track expose began. They were threatened with bodily harm as the saying goes but were not impressed. Then, with a murder in the Bronx to go on, the big press began to mill around and confirmed Alicia's reiterated proof that the De Koenigs were running a saloon called a Labor-Lyceum at which thousands of mutual clerks, ushers, ticket sellers and special cops at the Roosevelt harness track were forced to spend $5 a week for a bottle of booze. It was a social error to drink this liquor which went back to the bar at the closing hour. The waitress girls were held to account, through their union, for the safe delivery of the bottles. The De Koenigs owned the waitresses and the bartenders, too. Senior got an average of $73,000 a year for the last three years from the bar alone.

The A.F. of L., by order of the boss bum, George Meany, the national president, who tells President Eisenhower how "labor" feels about things, has picked up the charters of the track employees' unions and sent in a receiver to run the rackets until further notice. The De Koenigs still own the engineers' charter.

All these union rackets were interlarded with crooked Republican politics all over the state and Governor Dewey's remedial courses are now excusing past larcenies in which thieving Republican bosses walloped with the grand abandon of Jersey Democrats in the same vulgarities on their side of the Hudson. The loot from so-called welfare rackets is kissed good-bye with no thought of prosecution or recovery.

The spunk has gone out of journalism when a worthy daughter of Joseph Medill Patterson, having won a crusade, is willing to settle for a wan hope that the same crooked politicians who stood for and by the De Koenigs for years, will ask God to help them all be better boys.

Never Impose on Others For 'Do-It-Yourself' Jobs

With so many families engaged in "do-it-yourself" projects around their homes, here is a letter that should get into print.

A man writes: "We like our neighbors but there are several who expect too much of us. They only consider their pocketbooks at our expense. I have a trade, and while I don't mind lending out my tools (which cost several hundred dollars), it is contrary to our union laws as well as is doing work after hours for these people who should call the shops. But they think they can save a few bucks and so continually impose on us."

"What they don't know is that our relatives on both sides as well as our friends on both sides are doing the same thing and home isn't what it used to be."

"When I work all day I don't feel Too many togas and skirts, boy?"

It's a switch from light comedy of the "crumpets, anyone?" school to heavy drama for Michael Wilding in "The Egyptian," and he's saying:

"It's fine with me. Two comedies in Hollywood and nobody sees you in anything but comedy."

Bing Crosby and sons, Garry and Lindsay, are dress-alikes. The boys showed up for a CBS arler in worn blue jeans and nondescript shirts. . . . Clyde Cook, the vet comic, will become a father in June. He's in his 60's.

Overheard: "She has long blonde hair with short black roots."

like working for nothing at night. And it's a nuisance to always be lending my tools. Can't you write something about this?"

It is probably time someone did for there have been other letters along this line. One was from a husband who has the knack of being able to "fix" anything and who complained that his wife was forever volunteering his services to the neighbors.

Said he: "My wife is always saying, 'Get Jim to help you. He laid our linoleum and he'll be glad to help you with yours.'"

LET'S DO JOBS OURSELVES

In this rush to do it ourselves — let's be sure we ARE doing jobs ourselves and not enlisting the aid of friends, neighbors, or relatives.

Nor is it right to depend on others for the tools needed to do a job.

Saving "a few bucks" is fine — if it isn't done at someone else's expense. But it becomes chiseling when it gets down to that.

Let's keep the "do-it-yourself" trend what it started out to be, and not turn it into a "use-your friends" trend.

When you are having a baby sister for the first time, have her come early enough so that she can get acquainted with the children before you leave the house.

You owe it to both the sinner and your children to do that much to get them off to a good start.

U. S. Vitality Is Expressed In Dancing

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

If you are worrying about the jitterbug jive of your teenager, don't.

It's all an expression of America's great new vitality in appreciation of the dance, says Kyra Nijinsky, daughter of the late great Yslav Nijinsky, high priest of the ballet and the modern dance.

A vibrant brunette with a volcanic manner, Miss Nijinsky has been in America for less than two months, teaching classic ballet at the Ballet Arts School in New York and training her own group for television and concert appearances. She says:

"Dancing in America is at the world's highest level. Here you are so vital, so alive, so conscious of every form of the dance. This country is on the verge of a great renaissance of the art of the dance. And I hope to be a part of it."

Trained as a dancer since the age of six by her famous father, Kyra is absorbed heart and soul in the evolution of the dance.

"Any kind of dancing is good—even this jitterbug craze of which you speak. It's all a part of the whole urge of this young, great country to express emotion through movement—and that is good."

Romania Releases Brothers Held as Soviet Hostages

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State department said today Romania has released two young Georgescu boys—once held as hostages in an effort to force their father to spy for the Communists.

The boys, Constantin, 20, and Peter, 14, have been flown to West Germany and have been reunited with their father in Munich.

Their father is Valeriu Georgescu, a naturalized American of Romanian descent who lives in New York.

He charged last May that a member of the Romanian legation here offered to help release the sons if he spied for the Communists.

Rejects Deal
Georgescu, former manager of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey properties in Romania, rejected the deal.

The State department, as a result, ordered the Romanian diplomat, Christache Zambeletti, to leave the country. Zambeletti, left, protesting he had been framed.

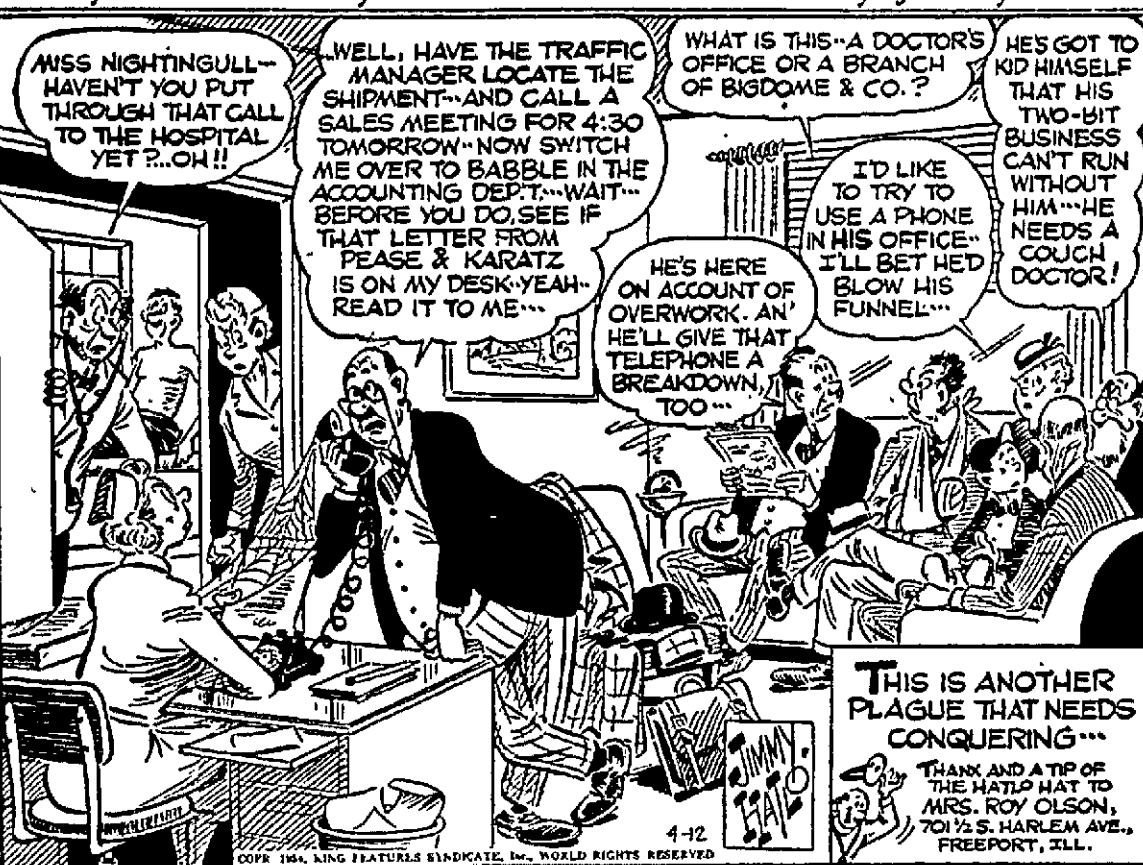

In announcements today, the State department said the two boys, accompanied by a member of the American legation, left Bucharest Saturday.

A State department spokesman said, in answer to questions, no concessions were given the Red Romanian government to obtain their freedom. All pleas, he said, were based strictly on "humanitarian grounds."

Hangover Is a Rebellion Of the Soul, Says Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—For some years a group of scholar scientists at Yale university has been studying the problem of what people do to alcohol (and vice versa), and now they are investigating hangovers.

Behind this probe is a merciful idea—the wish to find a cure for hangovers.

It can't be done. Frank Merriwell was unable to find a hangover remedy during the period when he made Yale famous. Tom Swift and the Rover Boys, I have heard, spent their adult years in quest of an electric or atomic answer to the hangover, and found no answer.

Collects Them

Even Toots Shor, the restaurant owner who collects the more interesting hangover cures of his clients and pastes them in his memory book as a hobby, can recommend no morning after remedy better than "Bloody Mary," which is vodka tinted pink with tomato juice.

One can only say to the true-blue researchers at Yale, "On, men, on!" But that is like egging on a bird dog to sniff for quail in a subway. The only thing he can get is practice.

There are two reasons why they will never find a real medical cure for a hangover.

First, they started too late. They don't have the material to work on. The 24-karat genuine, double-throb vibrating hangover is a thing of the past. It went out with prohibition.

Against Nature

Second, it is against nature that there should be any cure for a hangover except time and the acceptance of common sense.

Pleasure pursued too far must always be followed by pain, the penalty for foolishness. This is the iron law of living—that stupidity must pay its price.

Scientists are still puzzled over what a hangover really is. They seek a physical explanation to describe a rebellion of the soul.

Science would be better to look for a magic capsule to prevent stupidity rather than seek for a pill to cure hangovers. The hangover is an alarm clock of the conscience and the body, and anyone who finds a way to turn off that alarm clock is no real friend of the race of man.

Walnut Man Killed in Gun Mishap

LA SALLE, Ill. (AP)—Carl A. Gustafson, 64, of Walnut, Bureau County, was killed Sunday when accidentally shot in the head with a rifle.

Coroner A. A. Meyer said the shot was accidentally discharged while Gustafson was cleaning the front seat of his truck. One of two rifles on the seat discharged, Meyer said.

Cancer Society Reports Lung Cancer Rate Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Cancer Society reports that deaths from lung cancer in men have risen 500 per cent in the past 20 years but it says science has not discovered the cause.

In its annual report Sunday the society said it "takes the position that the causes of this rise have not yet been demonstrated scientifically."

"Perhaps the best way to express the society's attitude," it continued, "is to say that some evidence placed cigarette smoking on the scene of the crime but the evidence is not strong enough to convict it. Other data link air pollution to lung cancer."

Majors to 'Play Ball' Tuesday

Eight Games Will Open New Season

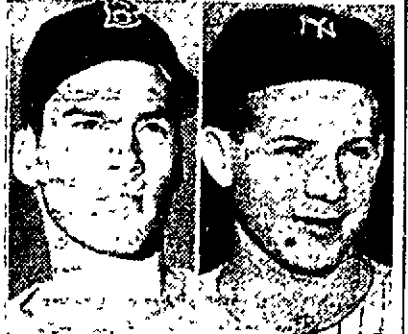

Power, Weakness Of Teams Start Coming to Light

By JOE REICHLER

New York (AP)—Were the major league races decided last March when Boston's Ted Williams fractured his collarbone and Milwaukee's Bobby Thomson broke his ankle?

Can the Red Sox overcome the early absence of Williams, their star slugger and put an end to the New York Yankees' long reign in the American league? Can Cleveland finally do it after finishing second to the Yankees three straight seasons? How about Chicago?

Can the Braves continue their momentum and overtake the Dodgers despite the loss of Thomson, their hard-hitting outfielder, for at least another month? Maybe

How about Orioles?

How much will Enos Slaughter help the Yankees?

And what about Baltimore, which returned to the majors after 51 years to inherit the franchise of the St. Louis Browns?

All these answers will begin to take shape Tuesday when the major league baseball season gets under way in eight cities. Approximately 200,000 fans are expected to attend the openers. For the first time in years all openers will take place the same day and all games will be played in daylight.

The opening schedule, starting times and estimated attendance:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Chicago at St. Louis, 2:30 p.m., 18,000.

Milwaukee at Cincinnati, 2:30 p.m., 30,000.

Philadelphia at Pittsburgh, 1:30 p.m., 20,000.

Brooklyn at New York, 1:30 p.m., 35,000.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Baltimore at Detroit, 2 p.m., 30,000.

Cleveland at Chicago, 2 p.m., 30,000.

Boston at Philadelphia, 2:05 p.m., 20,000.

New York at Washington, 3 p.m., 30,000.

President Eisenhower will throw out the first ball in Washington at 3 p.m. Tuesday before a capacity crowd of 30,000. Either right-hander Bob Porterfield or south-paw Chuck Stobbs will hurl for Washington against lefty Ed (Whitey) Ford of the Yankees.

Southpaw Billy Pierce will oppose veteran right-hander Early Wynn in the Chicago-Cleveland inaugural.

Bob Buhl, a hot pitcher all spring, will get the opening day shot for Milwaukee against Cincinnati's Bud Fodderman.

Minner to Start

Pittsburgh, opening the season at home for the first time since 1893, will field a brand new team. Not one was in last season's opening day lineup. The Pirates pitch Bob Friend against Robin Roberts, the ace Philadelphia right-hander.

Carl Erskine will hurl for the Dodgers who oppose their bitter rivals, the New York Giants, at the Polo Grounds. Sal Maglie, a Brooklyn nemesis for years, will be on the hill for the New Yorkers.

Harvey Haddix, the Cardinals' 20-game winner last year, will oppose Chicago's Paul Minner in a battle of lefthanders at St. Louis.

Kellogg Slips Into Constant Delirium

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Junius Kellogg, whose volunteered disclosures in 1951 broke the gambling scandal in college basketball, has slipped into virtual constant deliriousness at a Veterans Administration hospital here.

Kellogg, a member of the Harlem Globetrotters "B" team and former basketball star at Manhattan College, was injured critically when the car in which he was riding overturned April 2 near Pine Bluff, Ark. Four other Negro professional basketball players were injured less seriously.

Kellogg's doctor said that even if Kellogg should recover, he would be a paraplegic (paralyzed on both sides of his body from the waist down).

Cards Trade Enos Slaughter to Yanks

Cardinal Fans Call It 'Crazy,' 'Dirty Deal'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals gambled Enos Slaughter against the future but fans took a dim view of the odds.

The old war horse was traded to the world champion New York Yankees Sunday in a move that caught Slaughter, his teammates and St. Louis fans by surprise.

Fans called it everything from "crazy" to a "dirty deal."

Slaughter had been pegged as a probable starter in right field for the Cards opening game. But the Birds outfield now probably shapes up with Stan Musial in left, Rookie Wally Moon in center and Rip Repulski in right.

Manager Eddie Stanky, who says he feels the 33-year-old Moon is ready for major league ball, termed it a deal "that may see a young ball player fill Slaughter's shoes, and that is not an easy job."

Was the trade part of the deal that sent pitcher Vic Raschi from the Yanks to the Cardinals earlier in the spring? Cardinal General Manager Dick Meyer says "definitely not."

The Philadelphia Phillies, Pittsburgh Pirates, Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee Braves said Slaughter's age was the prime reason he was waived out of the National League.

Moon, who hit .311 with Rochester last year, wasn't even on the club's roster this spring. He came out of spring training with a .238 average against Slaughter's team-leading .361.

Cubs Cop City Series on 12-9 Win Over Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs may not be rated very dangerous in the National League race this season but they enter the 1954 chase as champions — of Chicago.

The Cubs, figured to finish in the second division again, beat the pennant-hopeful White Sox 12-9 Sunday in the rubber game of the three-game city series.

A crowd of 20,490 turned out in Wrigley Field for the match, marred by ragged pitching and on the Cubs' part, faulty fielding.

The Cubs turned the game into something of a farce by scoring eight runs in the fourth inning off Sox starter Bob Keegan and Mike Fornieles. Hank Sauer's three-run homer topped the spurge.

Dee Fondy also homered for the Cubs. His was good for two runs. Willard Marshall retailed with a home — on roundtripper for the Sox.

The Cubs committed six errors but only one led to a White Sox score.

Hal Jeffcoat, converted outfielder, was the winning pitcher. He hurled the last 4½ innings, allowing four runs — two unearned — and five hits.

LaMotta Puts Return on TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Man all battle stations, Jake LaMotta is on the way back.

The Bronx fire plug, last seen making like a TV comic with Rocky Graziano, puts his comeback on TV Wednesday night (CBS) at Miami Beach in a 10-round match with Billy Kilgore of Miami.

When Jake quietly knocked over some "nothing" fighter at West Palm Beach a month ago, nobody paid much attention. But the comeback apparently is serious.

Fight of the week probably will be the Carmine Basilio - Pierre Langlois match at Syracuse (ABC-TV) Saturday night. It's a rematch of a Dec. 19 draw in which all three officials split after a fine late comeback by the Frenchman.

Eduardo Lasse, impressive in his first visit to the states, returns from Argentina tonight to box Jesse Turner of St. Louis at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway (DuMont-TV) in some sections of the country.

Hogan Gambles and Loses

Snead Ties Ben for Lead

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, called the "two greatest golfers in the world" by grand slam king Bob Jones, met today in an 18-hole playoff for the 1954 Masters championship.

The little man from Texas and the long ball knocker from West Virginia tied with 289 totals. That is one over par for the exacting 6,800-yard Augusta National course and the highest score ever to earn first place in this prestige-packed tourney's 29-year history.

The winner will join colorful Jimmy Demaret as a three-time masters' champion. And a victory for Hogan would make him the only man ever to win two masters in succession.

No Par Breakers

Neither of the keen rivals could break par in the final round—

Snead had a 72 and Hogan a 75. A touch of drama was provided by the spectacular comeback after a poor third round by Billy Joe Patton, the happy-go-lucky amateur from Morganton, N. C.

Patton, who tied for the lead

the first day and moved out by himself the second day, finished with a 71 for a 290 total, Dutch Harrison, with a 68, and Lloyd Moungrum, with a 69, tied for fourth.

Next came Jack Burke, Jerry Barber and Bob Rosburg at 292.

It looked for awhile as if Patton would power his way to victory with his bold, shoot-for-the-pin brand of golf. Most of the gallery of some 18,000 were rooting for him to become the first amateur ever to win this tournament.

Hole in One

A hole-in-one had helped him to a 31 on the 32nd hole on the front while Hogan was taking a 37.

Ben had started out with a 3-stroke lead over Snead and a 5-stroke margin over Billy Joe. Patton thought Snead was the man he had to beat as he went off the 11th tee. He didn't know that Billy

Joe had taken a disastrous 7 and lost two strokes at No. 13 when his second shot landed in a creek.

"I made my mistake on the 11th," Ben said afterwards. "I thought Patton was the one to play for. So I tried to hook a three iron shot onto the green, but it landed in the water and I took a doubleboogie.

"If I'd known he'd shot that 7

I'd have played it safe."

Amboy won nine firsts to five for Earlville and the Clippers swept all five places in the 180 yard low hurdles. Don Koch and Ron Shipper each won two firsts to lead the

Dixon to Unveil Spring Athletes

Dixon high school's spring sports schedule opens with a bang this week as the Dukes send their track, golf and tennis teams into initial action.

The first to engage opposition is the golf team which travels to Sterling for a dual match with the Golden Warriors this afternoon.

Wednesday, Dixon's cindermen entertain Mt. Morris and Polo in a triangular meet. Amboy and Polo were the original opponents for this meet, but Amboy begins its spring vacation that day and dropped out of the meet. Mt. Morris has been substituted.

Other Area Action

The netmen take a big look at the probable top opposition in district competition when they entertain West Rockford Thursday afternoon. The Dukes are defending North Central Illinois conference champs and were runners-up in the district meet last season.

Elsewhere in the area, Forreston seeks its second baseball victory of the season by playing an opening day game with Leaf River to-day in Route 72 competition. The Cards squeaked out a 7-5 victory over Dakota earlier.

Tuesday finds a full slate of track events with Oregon meeting with Newman and Sterling on the Warrior track; LaMoille and Wynnet meeting at Malden and Ohio, and Buda traveling to Sheffield in Little Eight competition; Lee Center and Franklin Grove visiting Amboy, and Walnut competing in the Bradford meet.

Along with the Dixon-Mt. Morris-Polo track meet on Wednesday, Forreston will entertain the Freeport varsity-soph cindermen.

A varied schedule is slated for Thursday when Oregon's cindermen travel to Freeport. Ashton opens the baseball season at home to Lee Center; the Pawpaw nine entertains Burlington Central; Forreston's diamond squad entertains Freeport and Dixon entertains West Rockford in the initial tennis match of the season for the Dukes.

Friday is an off-day for all schools, but on Saturday, LaMoille and Walnut take their track teams to compete in the Geneseo relays.

NBA PLAYOFFS MONDAY'S SCHEDULE Syracuse at Minneapolis (best-of-seven final series tied 2-2).

SUNDAY'S RESULT Syracuse 63, Minneapolis 62.

SATURDAY'S RESULT Minneapolis 51, Syracuse 52.

Amboy Thinclads Defeat Earlville in Track Opener

AMBOY—(Special)—The Amboy Clippers opened their 1954 track season on a winning note Friday in a meet with Earlville by running up 138½ points against 80½ points for Earlville.

The meet, scheduled at the last minute, was scored for five places instead of the usual three places for a dual meet. Coach Wayne Sturm at Amboy reported the five place system was used so that both coaches could get a better idea of what they had.

Amboy won nine firsts to five for Earlville and the Clippers swept all five places in the 180 yard low hurdles. Don Koch and Ron Shipper each won two firsts to lead the Clippers while Swayne won two for Earlville. Other Amboy firsts were captured by Jim Donoho, Bill Lyons, Charlie Koch and Dave Adell.

The Clippers host Lee Center and Franklin Grove Tuesday afternoon in a triangular meet. It will be the final track activity for the Clippers before their spring vacation.

Could Mean Sixth Flag For Champs

Unhappy Slaughter Broke Down, Wept When Told of Deal

NEW YORK (AP)—Enos Slaughter the balding old war horse of the St. Louis Cardinals, joined the New York Yankees today and if history repeats itself he will be just the insurance Casey Stengel needs to wrap up his sixth straight American league pennant.

The 37-year-old veteran of 16 years with the Redbirds was dealt to the Yanks Sunday less than 48 hours before the opening of the season for pitcher Mel Wright and three unnamed players who will be assigned to Card farm clubs.

Five times before, the Yanks have reached into the National League for players other clubs thought were washed up, and almost every time the deal turned out to the advantage of the world champions.

Hustle Guy

They obtained Johnny Mize from the New York Giants, Johnny Hopp from the Pittsburgh Pirates, Johnny Sain from the Boston Braves, Ewell Blackwell from the Cincinnati Reds and Johnny Schmitz from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

With Mickey Mantle's bad leg still a question mark, and the Yanks floundering along under their worst spring training record since Stengel took over, Slaughter could be just the shot in the arm they need. He always has been a hustle guy.

For his part, Slaughter, who has compiled a lifetime batting average of .305, was unhappy over the deal — so unhappy that he broke down and wept when he was told of the trade.

"Getting Old"

"This is the biggest shock of my life," he said, tears streaming down his face. "Something I never expected to happen. I've given my life to this organization and they let you go when they think you're getting old."

Card Manager Eddie Stanky was equally sad, saying:

"It's one of those tough things that managers have to face. It's a good bet that he will be the No. 1 pinch-hitter. It also probably means finish for Eddie Robinson, a first-baseman, who also was around for pinch hitting chores.

Only last winter, the majors passed a rule aimed squarely at the Yanks' grabbing off veteran National League talent. Now, a player waived out of one league must be offered to the other league in the reverse order of the team standings. The catch is that it doesn't become effective until July 15 of each year.

Always a Cardinal

"The Cardinals are trying to build a young ball club, he said. "We are looking for an organization that will give us strong teams and pennant winners for years to come and we must look to the future. Although he won't bewitch us, Enos will always be a Cardinal."

Just where Stengel plans to touse Slaughter no one could say, but it's a good bet that he will be the No. 1 pinch-hitter. It also probably means finish for Eddie Robinson, a first-baseman, who also was around for pinch hitting chores.

TWO CHANGES HAVE BEEN MADE in the Dixon track schedule and one more is in the making, according to Coach Art Bowers.

The first pits Mt. Morris against the Ducks in the opening track meet of the season Wednesday. The Mounters replace Amboy and join Polo in a triangular meet.

THE SECOND COMES AS A RESULT of a schedule mixup. The schedule originally called for Dixon to travel to Rochelle April 27 and then to move on to Mendota for a triangular meet with the Trojans and Spring Valley April 29.

The meet with Rochelle, however, was actually set for April 29. So the meet with Mendota and Spring Valley has been cancelled and Bowers reports that he is trying to find a new date on which to run the annual meet with the Trojans.

AFTER WEEKEND ACTIVITY, the Detroit Red Wings found themselves only one victory shy of the Stanley Cup, hockey's most prized possession. The teams meet Tuesday night at Montreal with the Red Wings holding a 3-2 game lead in the best of seven series. A sudden death 1-0 victory by Montreal Sunday night kept the Canadiens' hopes very much alive.

IN THE NATIONAL BASKETBALL world series, the still crippled Syracuse Nationals won a 65-63 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers to square the series at 3-3 with the deciding game coming up tonight.

COLLEGE BOXING COACHES are working on a plan to "sell" the public on their favorite sport through television.

When only 5,300 fans attended the three-day NCAA tournament, Coach John J. Walsh of Wisconsin and Coach Jim Owen of Louisiana State started trying to line up a TV network to carry a series of dual meets every Saturday afternoon for about 10 weeks through February and March, winding up with the NCAA championships.

WISCONSIN, DESPITE THE SMALL TURNOUT, won the tournament as expected as the college clouters put on a real good show with plenty of action.

MAYOR THOMAS D'ALESSANDRO, the man given most credit for returning Baltimore to the major leagues, will not attend the home opener against the Chicago White Sox, Thursday. The mayor has been hospitalized for several weeks for a complete rest and checkup. Vice President Nixon gets to toss out the first ball for the Orioles' opener.

A NEW FIVE-YEAR PENSION PLAN for the major leagues was approved which provides that the pension fund will receive 60 per cent of the All-Star gate receipts and 60 per cent of the radio and television take for the All-Star game and the World Series. The fund will be administered by a four-man committee, two owner representatives and two player representatives who must be active in baseball.

A NEW FIVE-YEAR P

Where Does McCarthy Secure His Information?

Senator Has Built Formidable Network of Agents, Informers

By REILMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (U)—Where does Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy get his information? The answer is that in the four years since he first cried "Red" he has built a formidable intelligence system. It is based on a network of agents and informers, paid and unpaid, who dig up material from every corner of the United States, from confidential government files, even from foreign countries.

He has demonstrated time and again that he can quickly lay his hands on episodes—often long past—in the lives of men and women. His operation feeds on the skeleton in the closet, especially the political skeleton, but all kinds of skeletons interest him.

Main Sources

He has two main sources of information. He employs a staff of agents, many of them former FBI men, who earn more working for him than they could for the government. He also hires, as he needs them, undercover operatives in foreign countries.

In addition to these professionals, he receives "information" from a host of amateur tipsters and snipers, anxious or disgruntled people—individuals he has never met, whose very names may be unknown to him. This is perhaps the most astonishing phase of the phenomenon of "McCarthyism."

His office has become a receptacle for the fears, suspicions, hates and prejudices of an army of these informers.

Protects Sources

It is often asserted as well that McCarthy has agents among the employees of government offices. However, since he carefully protects his sources and informants, no solid evidence of this has emerged.

In any case, it is evident that he has access to some secret government documents and classified papers. How he gets them is his secret.

In his office he presides over a shadowy empire of personal histories . . . card-files cross-indexed as to names and cases, piles of dossiers, photographs, photographic copies, letters, newspaper clippings, memoranda.

He never knows what may be useful out of all this. He says that when he first brought his charges of Red-in-government "I began to be swamped with tips; much of the stuff is worthless. But on the other hand some of it has proved very valuable."

Handy Clipping

An old newspaper clip, for example, came in handy recently.

Last month commentator Edward R. Murrow conducted a television program critical of McCarthy. The senator promptly replied. He said Murrow had been a member of the National Advisory Council of Moscow University, summer session back in 1935.

Murrow said he had been assistant director of the Institute of International Education, which was an organization arranging student exchanges. He said the Russians themselves called off the summer session before it began.

But the 19-year-old incident was in McCarthy's files. The clip had been sent him, long ago, by one of the many volunteer informers.

Employs Agents

McCarthy makes no secret of the fact that he sometimes employs agents in other countries. He had one working out of Paris some years ago when he was centering his fire on the State Department.

an electronic "scrambler." The "unscrambling" device was at the receiving end of the system.

Harris says that 24 hours later McCarthy had the message "in the clear," that is, contents known. He comments: "Only a few people are involved in the transmission of such messages. They are highly classified. Yet McCarthy had it."

Does McCarthy tap telephones?

A former top aide to the senator—who asked not to be identified—said he doesn't believe so. He said this was not the practice while he was in McCarthy's office.

Harris, however, recalled a telephone conversation with a woman friend.

"She called me at my home one night . . . Two hours later, one of McCarthy's agents was in her apartment house, asking the neighbors if they had ever seen me in her apartment, if I had been there late at night and so on."

Harris laughed. "The lady is 40 years old, which considerably surprised McCarthy's agent."

WASHINGTON (U)—The senate meets but undoubtedly will recess without conducting regular business out of respect for Sen. Dwight D. Griswold (R-Neb.), who died early today of a heart ailment at Bethesda, Md., Naval hospital.

Anti-Communist legislation—Atty. Gen. Brownell presents to a house judiciary subcommittee a legislative program aimed at destroying the Communist party in America. The proposed statutes, which he outlined in a televised report to the nation Friday, would hamstring Communist control of vital industrial or labor organizations, make spying a death penalty offense in peace as well as war, and void the citizenship of any person guilty of advocating violent overthrow of the government.

McCarthy-army—The senate investigations subcommittee and its special counsel, Ray H. Jenkins, meet in closed session to plan the public, televised hearings of the row between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and top army officials.

Agriculture appropriations—The house begins debate on a bill that would give the Agriculture department more funds than it requested for next year. The house appropriations committee Friday voted to give the department the exact amount of cash requested but approved increasing its loan authority 45 million dollars over the amount sought.

Sen. Griswold Of Nebraska Dies Suddenly

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Dwight P. Griswold (R-Neb.), three times governor of his state and former director of the American aid mission to Greece, died early today after a heart attack. He was 60.

Death, attributed to a coronary occlusion, came shortly after midnight at the naval hospital at suburban Bethesda, Md. Mrs. Griswold was at the bedside.

Griswold had been in the senate since January, 1953. He was elected to fill out two years remaining in the term of the late Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry.

No change in the political lineup of the senate is likely. The governor of Nebraska, Robert C. Crossby, is a Republican and presumably will appoint a Republican successor to serve until the November election.

Griswold, although active in Republican political life for a quarter of a century, was named to several high positions in the Democratic administration of former President Truman.

He was elected to three two-year terms as Nebraska governor in 1940, 1942 and 1944. While serving his third term,

Navy Caught Without Boat

QUINCY, Mass. (U)—City police had to rescue two sailors adrift in a small boat Sunday because the Navy was caught without a boat.

Joseph E. Forti of Medford and Richard J. Greer of Quincy, both attached to the Squantum Naval Air Station, were rowing in the bay when they lost an oar.

Fellow Navy men on shore noticed their plight and called the harbor police to the rescue because the naval air station didn't have a boat available.

Sen. Russell Opposes Dependence on H-Bomb

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said today it would be foolish for Congress to place too much dependence on the hydrogen bomb and unbalance the nation's military strength by cutting funds for conventional weapons.

Similar doubts about overreliance on the H-bomb were voiced by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) and AFL President George Meany.

Russell, senior Democrat on the Senate Armed Services Committee and a member of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, said in an interview he is "uneasy" about the Eisenhower administration's proposal to reduce the ground forces.

Not Satisfied.

Neither, he said, is he satisfied with the amount of funds Congress has been asked to make available for the Air Force.

But he conceded that scattered Democratic protests against a proposed slash of about five billion dollars in over-all military funds are not likely to be effective.

He said President Eisenhower's prestige as a military man probably will defeat efforts to change budget figures.

Eisenhower has told Congress that the "new look" military program of major reliance on air power and new weapons justifies a reduction in defense outlays. He said that while Army divisions might be reduced, they would be more mobile, harder hitting and more dangerous to an enemy.

Advocates Increase

Meany, however, said Sunday that the "new look" should be altered so as to increase, rather than cut down, the number of U.S. troops in Europe and Asia.

Anderson's comment about the H-bomb came during a televised panel discussion yesterday in which he declared the mighty new superweapon is not the answer to all military problems.

"Does the H-bomb mean anything in Indochina?" he asked. "It means nothing. It is not suited for that kind of warfare."

New Theory On Cancer Described

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (U)—New evidence that cancers could be caused by viruses hitchhiking rides through our lives, but attacking only some of us, was described today.

We could acquire the virus hitchhiker very early in life, or even before we were born. They would ride harmlessly until something happened. Something could make the virus suddenly dangerous. Or something could change in our bodies so the virus could take the wheel. The change might be aging, alternations in hormones or some other event.

Support for this theory was described to the American Assn. for Cancer Research by Dr. Ludwik Gross of the Veterans Administration Hospital, New York.

Finds Cause

He finds that in mice a "virus" hitchhiker can be the cause of leukemia, the cancer of the blood.

He begins with a strain or family line of mice which get leukemia spontaneously.

He grinds up the spleen, liver and other organs of such mice, and prepares an extract which contains any tiny particles or viruses for leukemia in those organs.

Then he injects this extract into baby mice of a different strain, a strain which rarely gets leukemia spontaneously.

Most of these injected mice de-

Champ Captures Record Rattler; Ready to Quit

OKENE, Okla. (U)—The champion hunter of the 15th annual Rattlesnake Roundup said today he was ready to retire after capturing the biggest rattler in the history of the event.

"This might be a good time to quit," said Russell Strayhorn, a rugged, bronzed outdoorsman who collars the deadly diamondbacks in their own dens.

"At least my wife thinks so," Strayhorn, 48, who lives at nearby Watonga, said the monster Texas diamondback he snared with his partner Sunday was the longest he had ever seen—75½ inches of buzzing, deadly reptile. And he estimates he has caught 2,000 of them alive in his 19-year career.

It topped the catch of 1,576 hauled squirming from their rocky havens in Salt Creek Canyon west of here in the safari sponsored by the International Assn. of Rattlesnake Hunters.

Billed as the world's most unusual sporting event, the hunt attracted an estimated 20,000 sportsmen from 26 states.

Strayhorn pocketed $52.50 auction proceeds for his champion, which he caught with H. H. Tomlinson, superintendent of Roman Nose State Park. In the gypsum hills infested by hundreds of thousands of the venomous rattlers.

The wranglers had a busy day bringing in 71 snakes.

"We found the big one coiled and ready in a den that's usually empty," Strayhorn related. "His body must have been as big as a man's arm—and as strong. We didn't take any chances—pinched him with a forked stick, snatched the steel snake-catcher behind his head and dropped him into a bag."

Dulles, 66, Faces Test At Geneva

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (U)—If energy was the sole test, John Foster Dulles already would be one of the most successful secretaries of state in American history.

Now 66, and in office less than 15 months, he has traveled more than four times the distance around the earth in pursuit of American well-being since he became secretary.

Major Test

But history, with icy detachment, will appraise him not on his energy or his earnestness but on his vision, his judgment and his backbone. All three face a major test at Geneva's conference on peace in Korea and Indochina.

More than peace in either place is involved. The Communists could consider the whole conference successful if they split the United States and France or, through propaganda, diminished this country's stature a little.

Since last summer there has been a truce in Korea but no peace. And in the eight-year-old war between the French and the Communist-led Vietnamese in Indochina there is no sign of either truce or peace.

Seems Impossible

Peace in Korea seems impossible. The United States wants Korea united in free elections which the South Korean government, an American ally, would be sure to win if only because the South Koreans outnumber the North Koreans. It's hard to see the Communists buying that.

Somehow, perhaps, they might be willing to stop helping the Vietnamese against the French, which would mean a French victory. Even that sounds like wishful thinking. But if they did, there would be a price tag attached. What price?

The Chinese may have thought they could make a deal for themselves when their Russian ally arranged to let them sit in at Geneva, their first invitation to a conference of the big powers.

The Chinese may have felt—but when anyone suggests this he's guessing—that for some concessions on Korea or Indochina they could get recognition by the United States and a seat in the U. N., replacing Chiang.

Closes The Door

In a New York speech March 29 Dulles seemed to close the door on both possibilities, so far as this country is concerned. Even if he wanted to do business on those terms, he's under tremendous congressional pressure not to.

He has called for "united action" among American allies in Indochina to help the French—apparently before he had discussed it with the allies.

If this is his bargaining point—a warning the Allies may jump into Indochina if the Chinese don't agree to help end the war there—it will work only if the Communists buy it. If not, the eventual results may be war.

To Democratic Voters in the Next Primary Election -- April 13, 1954

As a former member of the Illinois Legislature, I have been asked concerning the accuracy of the statements in political advertisements by William N. Stone, Democratic candidate for Minority Representative.

I have examined the House Journal for the last regular session where the votes of all members are recorded, and find that Mr. Stone's statements are correct—Mr. Considine did fail to be recorded on 398 roll calls, during the last eight weeks of the 1953 session.

The Journal shows that he was not excused on account of illness. The Journal is silent on his failure to answer roll calls—so is Mr. Considine.

The State Auditor's report shows that Mr. Considine was paid $10,830.00 for his services for the session commencing in January, 1953.

It is not my purpose to advise anyone how to vote: each voter may make his own choice.

Personally, I shall vote for William N. Stone.

Suzan, Dick Honeymoon In California

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Suzan Ball and Dick Long, whose marriage climaxed Hollywood's nicest love story, today start their honeymoon with a leisurely drive up the California coast.

The striking brunette actress, who lost her right leg to cancer in January, made one of the year's most beautiful brides as she and the young actor were wed Sunday at El Montecito Presbyterian Church.

The wedding was intensely dramatic, because everyone expected the bride to come down the aisle on crutches. But Suzan had vowed she would walk down the aisle unaided, and that she did.

Although she had practiced only six days with her artificial leg, she laid aside her crutches a few minutes before the ceremony.

Some 1,000 people crowded inside and outside the quaint little country church, and there was an audible gasp from the assemblage as Suzan entered the church without crutches. She walked firmly down the aisle—with but a slight limp—on the arm of her father, H. Dale Ball.

Long, 25, first saw his bride in a movie while he was in the Army in Japan four years ago. He was very much impressed. Later, when out of uniform and back at Universal-International Studios to resume his acting career, he saw the dark beauty sitting in the commissary. He introduced himself. She was on crutches at the time.

The Italian government estimates that it will require 75 years' more work to complete the excavation of Pompeii.

Midland Rail Strike Ends

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Chicago and Illinois Midland Railway resume full operations today with the end of a five day strike by 45 members of the Independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Union and railroad officials announced settlement of the principal cause of the strike, a dispute over mileage regulations. Other issues will be submitted to a special board of adjustment.

Negotiators reached the agreement Saturday night but the trains did not resume normal operations until today.

The railroad is a coal hauling line running from Peoria to Springfield, Pekin, Havana and Taylorville.

The strike had idled Peabody Coal Co. mines 8 and 10 near Taylorville and 17 at Pana. All three mines supply coal to Commonwealth Edison Co. of Chicago.

Systematic savings of U. S. Savings Bonds offer the surest means of future security.

Sunday Clovis and Martha Johnson celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. Married in Arlington, Mass., they now have 18 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Former Actress Discovered Dead

Chromium was named for the Greek word for color because of the varied colors of its compounds.

NEW YORK (AP)—Elaine Arden, 45-year-old former vaudeville comedienne and movie bit player, was found dead early today in her apartment, apparently of a barbiturate overdose, police said.

Police said Miss Arden had been employed here for the past three years by a theatrical agency.

Sue for $105,000 for Tots Orphaned by Tavern Shooting

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—The brother of a man killed in a tavern shooting has asked $105,000 in a suit filed in behalf of seven children orphaned by the shooting.

The suit filed Saturday under the Dram Shop Act named persons with interests in three tavern properties. It was filed in LaSalle County Circuit Court by George W. McCaslin, brother of Nova McCaslin of Waterman, who was shot in a tavern dispute Sept. 20. He died Oct. 2.

Arrested of Murder
Melvin Carver, 47, of Waterman, was tried and acquitted March 3, on a murder indictment.

Listed as defendants were Jason DeBolt, owner of the Hog House, a tavern on the north boundary of LaSalle County, 25 miles northeast of Ottawa; James Wilhelm of Sandwich, who leased the Hog House from DeBolt; Scott Masters and Robert Shook, proprietors of Scotty's Place in DeKalb, and Mike Sarich, owner of the premises; and Arthur W. and Lulu M. Long, owners of Long's Barn at Kaneville.

Under the terms of the Dram Shop Act, a tavern operator may be held financially responsible for injury to persons resulting from drunkenness of a patron.

The suit asserts that testimony at the trial of Carver established that he and two companions visited Scotty's and the Long Barn before the fatal shooting which occurred at the Hog House.

He Was Drunk
The suit also states that Carver was drunk at the time of the shooting.

The best thing about spring is that it comes when it is most needed.

McCaslin said he was named guardian of his brother's seven children, who were orphaned by the shooting.

The action seeks to collect $15,000 for each youngster. They are Kenneth, 19; Louis, 17; Gerald, 15; Florence, 13; Mary, 11; Lawrence 9; and Rita, 8.

Mobster Dies Without Word On Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—Anthony Pape, true to gangland tradition, died Sunday night without divulging who gunned down him and, his brother two days earlier.

Pape, 40-year-old reputed chief of a 10-million-dollar-a-year dope ring, succumbed in Bridewell hospital to eight gunshot wounds in the head, back and arms.

He died without naming the assailants who apparently were in the back seat of the automobile in which Pape and his post office clerk brother, James, 36, were fatally shot.

Police Saturday said they believed Anthony Pape was slain to prevent him from making a deal to tell federal authorities about a counterfeiting ring in exchange for clemency on narcotics charges Anthony faced.

But Asst. U. S. Atty. James Piragone said there never was any indication that the elder Pape was prepared to "squeal."

Police stenographers at Anthony's bedside reported his mumbled words were mostly unintelligible.

James Pape apparently was an innocent victim who was slain only because he was with his brother at the time, Police Lt. John Golden said. James had no police record. He died instantly of three shots in the head and neck.

Anthony, six other men and a woman were seized March 16 in what federal officers called a roundup of principals in a dope ring that was the main source of supply for addicts in the Chicago area. Four of the men are still in custody.

Says McCarthy Hurts American Prestige Abroad

CINCINNATI (AP)—Douglas L. Hoge, president of the Junior Chamber International returned from a three-month world tour Sunday night and said the activities of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) have all but ruined American prestige abroad.

"It does not mean to minimize the importance of keeping Communists out of important posts here, but I would like to see more evidence of our government's determination to keep the Reds out of existence everywhere," he said in a speech.
